

The Number 1 – Make Change And Embrace New Beginnings

Seeing the number one suggests that you may be struggling with negativity. Plus, since you create your own reality, this number is a reminder that you may be accidentally creating more negativity. Think about why, and refocus your mind towards your desires rather than your fears to ensure you vibrate on a frequency of abundance rather than lack. Once you overcome this negativity, be sure to embrace any changes. One is a stepping stone and a number that represents beginnings. Other qualities associated with this number are strength and leadership.

The Number 2 – Expect Harmony And Balance

Have things been tough for you recently? Two symbolizes balance, so if you are currently surrounded by conflict and keep seeing the number two, have faith that things will get better. Repetitions of the number two tell you that if you just hold on and wait for the balance to come. Stay true to the vision you have for the future. In addition, know that optimism is justified. Alternatively, if you feel like nothing could go wrong, keep practicing positive thinking and be prepared for anything that may try and sway your mind to negativity. Design some affirmations based on the idea of strength and resilience, and say each one twice. Also concentrate on relationships, business partnerships, and teamwork. It may be seeing the number two everywhere is a sign that you need to work on your relationships with another person.

The Number 3 – Chase Your Dreams

The number three indicates that sources of love and wisdom are nearby, and are yours to benefit from. It is also often associated with luck and good fortune. So, for example, if you're having lunch with someone and see a lot of three's on the check, think harder about how this person might be able to help you get what you want in life. This could be the exact right time to expand your knowledge base, chase your dreams, and challenge yourself. After all, you may have luck and wisdom on your side. This has broad applicability, so may relate to everything from love to money, achievement, and personal growth.

The Number 4 – Take A Leap Of Faith

The number four can represent stability and routine. For example, the four seasons (Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winter). However, if you've been seeing the number four a lot recently, you may be playing things just a little bit too safe. Maybe you've been living your life on a strict routine, planning extensively and waiting for the 'right time' to chase your dreams. Part of productive manifestation work involves pushing yourself out of your comfort zone and experimenting with new ways of being. Repeating fours is a sign that you would benefit from taking a leap of faith in some respect.

The Number 5 – Offer Gratitude To The World Around You

The number five is often associated with adventure and change. It will often appear when it's time to start listening to your body and to the people around you. Perhaps you're struggling with something by yourself, taking on too much, or not collaborating with others. The number five is here to tell you that the most positive change will result from appreciating the world around you. Offer gratitude for what you see, hear, touch, smell, and feel. It also suggests you may go on a journey (whether that be a mental, spiritual, or physical journey).

The Number 6 – Rid Your Life Of Negative Energy

In Tarot, six represents the Lovers. In this way, if you keep seeing the number six, it may be a sign you need to embrace inner peace and self-love. Similarly, when you're being held back by anxiety or fear, it's common to see the number 6 all around you. It lets you know that you need to find ways to move past these feelings if you're going to manifest what you want. Journal work, therapy, and positive affirmations are some of the best tools at your disposal if you keep seeing the number six.

The Number 7 – Prepare For A Spiritual Awakening

The number seven is intimately connected with new opportunities, especially ones that you weren't expecting to come your way. It might appear in connection with job adverts, dating prospects, places to live, or new classes, but no matter where you see repeated sevens you can be sure that there's something highly advantageous hidden in plain sight. Furthermore, learn to listen to your gut. Trust your instincts when you keep seeing the number seven and prepare for a spiritual awakening.

The Number 8 – A Sign Of Success

Eight is often a symbol of abundance and prosperity. The shape of the number eight also suggests themes of momentum and repetition due to its cycles and link to infinity. Therefore, if you keep seeing the number eight, be sure to purge any negative thinking, allowing positivity to exponentially grow inside of you. Seeing repeated occurrences of the number eight is a generally positive sign, as this number is also tied to balance and success. Any time you see this number, it can point you towards changes to empower yourself, boost your self-confidence and become more influential in your chosen field.

The Number 9 – Share Your Wisdom With The World

Finally, the number 9 is linked to compassion and empathy. It may be you are a natural empath. If you're seeing it in your life then there's a good chance that you're bringing a lot of good into the lives of others. Nine can be a sign that you should share your talents and wisdom with the world! On the other hand, 9 is there to prompt you to think about whether you're working too hard to meet the needs of others. It may be time to redirect some of that energy to your own aims and goals. However, no matter what, be sure to trust your own abilities and embrace your charitable nature.
