

Below you can read the full reading I talk about in the Atlantis Split Experiment video:

My source takes me to an underground High-tech room, with computers that I can't even describe, so advanced. A mix of Electromagnetic, Crystal, light and Physical form stuff. When I ask where I am, I receive, an underground lab in Atlantis. It feels very close, when I mention this, I'm told that Atlantis is a cel just outside our 3 density cel field. In this Atlantis cel witch is shown to me as a cube shape, the Draco resets are prepared and performed every 130 years. Consciousness is here uploaded, mixed, and manipulated using false light geometry, color codes, and emotion programs. When ready, it is downloaded back in a soul program into a new avatar/body. For the next Earth experiment. Your individual consciousness became one as a soul DNA template, as it were, during an Atlantis Split experiment, a long time ago. We are now in the final phase of this present reset. During the experiment I got to witness, 8 spheres with false light coding programs through which consciousness was lead through, as it were. They also mixed consciousness here and create a soul template. It is a splitting experiment, that's how it is named. You are part of the Two Split. What this experiment is and why I will share later in the reading.

Part one, your former reset lives

I'm pulled away from Atlantis and brought to an experience of a temporary settlement consisting of tents. In the midst of a truly magical forest. When I ask where it is, I get "Artursage". I'll write it down as I hear it. Somewhere near England. This settlement is recovering from a recent battle. In the middle of the settlement is the largest tent. More luxurious than all other tents. When I enter this tent, I see three people. In the center of the tent is a royal-looking woman. When I ask who she is, I receive, the woman out of the water, Lady Nineve. I didn't recognize her, but now know it's your beloved from this life, Ani. I recognize the woman standing behind her, from this present life, as Aukje. We both know her. And the man standing behind her is you, Marcel. Then I learn that you are the mage/druid and protector, in the service of Lady Nineve. The other woman behind Lady Nineve is your sister and assistant in this past reset life. Assisting you in creating all herbal medicinal tinctures, she is an Earth Alchemist. Your alchemical gift is Fire and Ani is a Water Alchemist. And still in 2022, because this knowledge is stored in your DNA Template. In this past life reset, it turns out that you and Ani are having a secret love affair. All three of you were brought here to heal a royal who was wounded in battle. This man is the husband of Ani, Lady Nineve. The scene that unfolds shows me, you Marcel, donning your Lady Nineve a protective robe. Her robe is lined with fine craftsmanship, crystals, bird bones, feathers and druid characters made of wood. You have made this robe and now hallow it with the protective power of your Fire Alchemy Grid. To protect Lady Nineve and her water healing work. This life in which you secretly had a love relationship turns out to be one of many lives. In this past life, Ani's husband found out about your love affair, and she turned out to be pregnant with your child, Marcel. Your sister was taken apart and had to poison you under pressure from Ani's husband and you, Ani, had to say goodbye to your newborn immediately after the birth of your love child. The husband of Ani is a reptilian in a human vessel.

By now, I know what your beloved Ani does in this present life. Designing and transforming creations into very special garments. After sharing the above with you Marcel, I now also know that you as a young boy in this present life chose for the fashion school. Logically, you both chose the beauty of making clothes again. I say again because there are several more lifetimes/resets passing by in brief flashes where I see you working in different environments and time periods related to theater. What becomes clear in these brief flashes is your deep love for each other in secret. For many lifetimes you have been in a relationship in secret, because it was not possible due to difference of origin or the other was already bounded through a relationship. They show me that you have been ripped from each other's lives several times, many times, resulting in the death of one of you. I can also see a few flashes in which I see Ani, torn by grief, saying goodbye to her child. From your forced secret love relationships through the ages, children have also been born. Children who were unfortunately not allowed to be visible during that reset. As a result, you and Ani were forced to say goodbye to your children many times. These memories are present in your DNA and will surface when the time comes. I know that Marcel has already regained some memories. Share them with each other to illuminate them with your love in order to transform all the shadow pains and demagnetize the programs. Set the intend for bringing home the many soul shattered aspects via your heartspace into you soul template.

Back to the Atlantis Split experiment:

When I ask if you are twin flames, I receive that both your consciousness are mixed during the Atlantis two Split experiment. I am taken to a high-tech environment and see an electromagnetic light system, which flows into each other through a kind of spiral movement. This is linked to high-tech computer systems. Computer systems that are also used on Orion Ships, this memory is also present in your DNA, I am getting. Ani, is working on the ship as some kind of code healer and you, Marcel, are being experimented on in a hightech room. You were both prisoners on this Orion ship. This Orion lifetime is during a War. I'm receiving through my source.

Back to the Atlantis split experiment, I am shown, people/avatars connected to a high-tech computer and electrical magnetic light system. This experiment has its origin in the Orion Cel, I'm told. It appears to have been manufactured somewhere in Orion and is hidden underground from the Atlanteans here in the Atlantis cel/cube. They experiment in underground labs. It is a consciousness splitting system and a DNA soul template builder. This was the beginning of the splitting of consciousness and the disruption of the natural divine emotions and state of source beings, by inducing experimental split DNA soul codes/programs into the consciousness. There are a total of 8 cleavage split experiments. The both of you have mainprogram the 2 split and the opposite program, the 7 split. I have made three examples of it, as best I could, for a clearer vision, you find these pics below this reading. As they show me, light consciousness is being taken out of the both of you and mixed with each other, as it were. Then color code programs (emotional imbalance codes) are added. After that, the one consciousness is made into two again. The split moment. And over each consciousness is first placed a false light Fibonacci spiral and then a kind of computer-like printed circuit board of light, which resembles the flower of life, but also a maze. I am told this is the new DNA soul template. After this it is placed in a black Metatronic square and merkaba, before consciousness is downloaded back into the Earth body/avatar. I see the black square consciousness connecting directly to a light movement that is present in the physical heart. When I ask about it, they tell me that that is the original source light, which causes the new soul template programs and consciousness to attach itself to the physical body. This Source light is where all the wisdom and memories of our true source reside. They can't manipulate this source light, and to this day they still haven't managed to do so. Although they are trying it again via the AI shots and the computer system introduced for their transhumanism Metaverse plan. They are eager to upload as much consciousness as possible into their AI Metaverse cloud.

We are all connected to two main template emotion/soul programs, which are visible through our past lives and current lives. For the two of you, it's emotion program 2 and the opposite emotion program 7. See the pictures below this reading to understand it better. I know it will explain a lot for the both of you. But of course we have to go through all the spheres, they didn't want to make the experiment too easy. It is a maze with many false codings and layer template peaces to it. Our consciousness is mixed with many others, we share many template soul keys for each other, and we also share many memories with each other. The two of you, because of your two split, have a similar soul template, but you are also part of the 7 split, which means there are in this game 7 other souls who carry peaces of your soul template too. We need to bring all the soul puzzle peaces back home, before we can demagnetize all the programs in this game. It is like a puzzle. We need to fully detach and bring home all that is part of our soul template, including all the love we gave away. We are one source family and this Orion/Draco reset game can dissolve, if all true source beings manage to work through the maze game they created, and bring home the DNA Template soul puzzle pieces, demagnetize all programs and detach themselves fully. Becoming empty, as it were. So, I am getting there is a way out, but of course, we need to do the work. Connecting to the nature and animal kingdoms can assist us, big time. For the animal and plant worlds carry within them the original Fibonacci coding, which helps us realign to the elementary consciousness, that was blocked when they programmed us with the false Fibonacci coding during the Atlantis experiment. The Element structure within our body works as a roadmap, I am getting. They have so many false demon gods and angels to distract us and pull us back into their Metatronic trap. Also, do not engage with the Flower of Live and their version of the Metatron Cube and Merkaba, for it's a trap to keep you locked in. Do not call upon gods/angels etc. guidance outside yourself, all you need is within your source. You are nothing and everything at the same time. Marcel, it's time to start believing in your Alchemizing source powers! All you need is you! Your own Source Light, knowing and love.

Much love,

Qizenna

The 2 Split Consciousness

Merging of 2 Consciousnesses

False matrix programs being inserted.

2 Split consciousness, keys and programs hidden in Maze.

2 mixed Consciousnesses, by finding zero point in every program, they can find the keys to get out of their individual and mixed programmed Maze. And reconnect to their own original creator godseed DNA.

Two split is part of the 7th sphere program (seperation) and 2th sphere program (shame).
