

I detach myself from past events and future outcomes, from all narratives, all identities and all mind programs within this holographic game.

When I am detached, my natural state of demagnetized balanced peace and true source knowing, can unfold from my observing zero-point source awareness within myself.

From my void of nothingness, I project only trust, peace and self love on my screen in every unfolding now moment.

True source knowing and abundance for all needs will unfold naturally, for everything I need is present in my source of nothingness.

When the mind tries to seduce and trick me through an outside holographic implanted matrix game scenario, I detach and observe from my nothingness.

Here the mind has no power and therefore everything naturally bounces off from my field, so no program loop can re-magnetize.

In every now moment there is only trust, peace, self love and source knowing.

I was never and never will be a slave of the matrix mind manipulation codings. Because my source awareness in my nothing is always more powerful!

And when my body stops and the moment arrives to leave this game, I know exactly where home is, because I am already home within my true source knowing awareness. And so it is!
